

DC SCORES

Staff Biography

Amy Nakamoto, Executive Director

Amy, a native of Falls Church, Virginia, began her tenure at DC SCORES in 2006. From 2003-2006, Amy coached the women's soccer team at Bryn Mawr College where she also assisted in the creation of a student-athlete leadership program, a community-outreach physical education course, and various other campus wellness initiatives. Over the past decade, Amy has been involved with SportsChallenge Leadership Academy and Positive Coaching Alliance, where she has conducted numerous workshops, clinics, camps, and leadership facilitations. She currently serves on the board of directors of DC Alliance of Youth Advocates and on the WAMU 88.5 Community Council. In the past two years, Amy has been recognized and celebrated by Harvard Business School Club of Washington, DC, the Positive Coaching Alliance, The Century Council, and the Meyer Foundation as a leader in youth development and the nonprofit sector. Amy graduated from North Carolina State University in 1998, where she was a four-year member of the women's soccer team. In 1999, Amy spent a year at Northeastern University's Center for the Study of Sport in Society as an Athletes in Service to America AmeriCorps member before receiving a master's degree in Exercise and Sport Science from UNC-Greensboro. In 2003, Amy received a second master's degree in Human Development in Education from the University of Pennsylvania.