Me Myself and I

Me myself and I is beautiful
Inside and out
Me is strong,
And me is brave
Myself has kindness,
And myself has generosity
But most of all,
I have curiosity
Me is proud of being here,
Up on this lovely stage
Myself is nervous,
But at the same time curious
Of what people will think of me,

I know I can do this,
so I’m going to try
Try my best,
And do my best
If I mess up,
Well I tried
And that’s the great part
About being,
Me Myself and I

America SCORES, a national non-profit, serves over 8,000 children at over 155 public and charter schools in 14 major cities. America SCORES’ mission is to inspire urban children to lead healthy lives, be engaged students and have the confidence and character to make a difference in the world. We achieve this mission through daily after school programs that combine soccer, poetry and community service. This holistic, team-based approach works. America SCORES students, 85% of whom qualify for free or reduced lunch, improve academically, increase physical fitness and have a greater sense of confidence and belonging.

America SCORES marked its 20th program year in 2014. In 1994, DC SCORES was founded by Julie Kennedy, a young public school teacher in Washington, D.C., who saw a lack of activities for her students after school. Implementing core values of teamwork, leadership and commitment into her students, the program launched 20 years of life-changing experiences for tens of thousands of low-income students through poetry, soccer and community service.

Today, America SCORES serves over 8,000 students. In expanding our program to serve K-2nd grade and middle school students, we are able to give more young people the opportunity to express themselves, have a coach and a team of peers. Perhaps most significantly in our 20th year, SCORES has proven time and again to be a successful and sustainable program. Statistics show that our poet-athletes improve their physical fitness and academics and have a greater connection to the community. The pages ahead will deepen your understanding of the people that make SCORES so special.

We welcomed a new member to our network this year with the launch of Canada SCORES Vancouver. With the leadership of longtime SCORES board member Jon Lutz, our program has now gone international and ensured that high quality after-school programming is available to communities in need around Vancouver.

Another addition to our family was World Champion Goalkeeper Briana Scurry as National Spokesperson. With Bri’s support and visibility, America SCORES will inspire generations of young girls and boys to succeed in the classroom and on the field. Her involvement continues our long-standing connection with the U.S. Women’s National Team.

To the hundreds of donors, volunteers and supporters that continue to make America SCORES possible: thank you. Thank you for providing the opportunities for SCORES poet-athletes to succeed, both in school and in life. Here’s to the next 20 years!
TRIP TO THE White House

On Oct. 1, 2014, DC SCORES poet-athletes from Truesdell Education Campus (an 18-year SCORES participant) were in for the experience of a lifetime when they were invited to the White House lawn for a soccer clinic with Sporting Kansas City, the 2013 MLS champions. Donning Sporting KC shirts, the Truesdell students showed off their skills in front of the pros and picked up some pointers along the way.

In addition to celebrating the MLS champions, the poet-athletes took part in the President’s Council on Fitness, Sports & Nutrition’s #EatSmart campaign. Each poet-athlete filled out signs about why they make healthy eating choices. Ranging from practical answers like “To stay in shape” to more long term goals like “Perform my best,” the campaign was boosted by the presence of the Sporting KC players who have reached the pinnacle of success in their sport. The students learned that healthy habits are important on and off the soccer field!

The MLS champion team’s visit to the White House is an annual event for the president to congratulate the team and celebrate the sport of soccer with kids from the community. As soccer becomes more prominent in the country, more opportunities arise for America SCORES to raise awareness about the impact the sport can have on youth development. Last year, poet-athletes from Atlanta, Boston, and Cleveland were invited to join DC SCORES at the home of the president. It’s an amazing opportunity for SCORES students to meet their idols and learn about how teamwork and hard work can lead to success in life.
In an event highlighting powerful poetry and celebrating SCORES supporters near and far, there was one clear takeaway from the evening: words can change the world.

On April 7, 2014, under the lights of the New York Stock Exchange, 26 poet-athletes from 13 cities across the country marched out in unison to chants of “Can you hear through the power of my words?” Thus began an exhibition of poetry that would bring the over 200 people in attendance (and over 1,000 watching online via live stream) to laughter, tears, and an overwhelming feeling that these kids are capable of anything. Exhibiting command of stage, language, and technique, the students left those attending in absolute awe.

Now in its 8th year, the National Poetry SLAM! is the annual celebration of America SCORES that showcases the power of our program to instill confidence and self-expression into the lives of America’s youth. Thousands of SCORES students work throughout the school year to write and perform their original poetry at regional Poetry SLAMs around the country for the opportunity to travel to New York City for the trip of a lifetime. The event is the culmination of two days of practicing, sight-seeing, and spending time with each other for the selected students. Participants come away with lifelong friends, a sense of belonging beyond their communities, and a new self-belief to achieve inside and out of the classroom.
The Last Word
with Lawrence O’Donnell

For one lucky poet-athlete, the National Poetry SLAM! performance was only the beginning of the night’s celebration. After an invite to MSNBC’s “The Last Word with Lawrence O’Donnell,” Xavier C. of DC SCORES appeared on the show with America SCORES National Executive Director Holly O’Donnell. Looking like a seasoned TV veteran throughout, Xavier answered questions about SCORES and then stepped onto the studio stage to perform the poem that had stunned the National Poetry SLAM! audience hours earlier.

My School’s Closing...

I heard the most terrible news and it’s left me so confused!
My school may be closing and I am in shock!
I would do anything to turn back the hands on the clock!
ATA is the best school for me and the only one I’d choose,
but if you close our doors we’d lose…
our home away from home on 5300 Blaine
this would be such a shame!
I love showing my Jaguar PRIDE and wearing my burgundy and tan,
so to save my school is the plan!
It’s not fair to close our school and force us to go
I need the arts and technology to help me grow!
We know our math and reading scores may not be the best,
But we have potential because our worth is more than just data and tests!

Moms, Dads, and community leaders…we need your help to save our school!
Please let the Public Charter School Board know that closing ATA would not be cool!
If I am the future, then put my needs first!

In June 2014, America SCORES welcomed a very exciting new member to the SCORES family. Olympic and World Cup champion goalkeeper Briana Scurry was named the National Spokesperson for SCORES. In her new role as an ambassador, she has been spreading her love for the game of soccer and her passion for education to poet-athletes all across the country.

Scurry is widely thought of as one of the world’s best female soccer goalkeepers, with two Olympic gold medals (1996 and 2000) and 173 international appearances, including the 1999 FIFA World Cup Final, where she made history with an outstanding shoot-out save against China in front of 90,000 screaming fans. Scurry continued to make history as one of the first women in the world to participate in a woman’s paid professional league until a debilitating head-injury led to her retirement in 2010.

As spokesperson, Scurry travels to SCORES cities to host soccer clinics with young poet-athletes and inspires them to be confident and successful on and off the field. In addition, she was featured in the July 7, 2014 issue of Sports Illustrated, where she discussed her role with SCORES and her comeback from concussion.
“America SCORES changes the lives of children who need it the most. I’m happy to be part of something bigger than myself and give back to the soccer world, which has given so much to me.”

Briana Scurry

“We are honored to have Briana join our team. She adds a new dimension of leadership and motivation for children, coaches, schools and communities across the country.”

Holly O’Donnell
America SCORES National Executive Director
America SCORES was developed in 1994 in Washington, D.C. by a public school teacher concerned that her students, lacking constructive after-school options, were at risk of gang activity and other dangers after class. As she introduced new activities to her students—soccer, poetry, service learning—she found that her students had become more engaged in class, more physically active, and more involved in their communities. Designed as a replicable model, SCORES has grown since becoming a national organization in 1999 to impact over 8,000 students in over 155 public schools in 14 cities in North America — Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Dallas, Denver, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, New York, Portland (OR), San Francisco, Seattle, St. Louis, Vancouver, and Washington D.C.

Originally focused on elementary school, the program has expanded to meet the demands of its students. With middle school programs, SCORES poet-athletes can stay with their team and continue to have a safe space after school. Similarly, many SCORES sites now offer winter and summer programming, ensuring students can reap the benefits of teamwork and leadership year-round. As students have entered high school and college, programs have emerged to engage alumni and help them graduate high school and prepare for college. In this way, SCORES establishes the platform for students to succeed now and for the future. To date, more than 50,000 urban youth have benefited from the unique programming of America SCORES.

In addition to the physical and mental benefits of SCORES, the program can have a significant impact on a child’s social and emotional learning (SEL). According to leading SEL organization CASEL, there are five core competencies to a child’s social and emotional learning:

Self-Awareness
- 95% of children are happier and less stressed after participating in SCORES

Self-Management
- 95% of parents report children can better handle challenges after participating in SCORES

Social Awareness
- 95% of SCORES participants understand the importance of respecting their teammates and coaches

Relationship Skills
- 76% of students reported that “SCORES helps me work together with others better”

Responsible Decision-Making
- 100% of parents report that since participating in SCORES their child takes more responsibility for their actions
DALLAS
• 100% of parents felt that their children were safe while at SCORES and 95% reported that their children seemed happier or less stressed since participating in the program.

DC
• 94% of participants report that they have a positive attitude about themselves and 95% feel like a part of their community after participating in SCORES.

LA
• 85% of parents strongly agree the amount of exercise or physical activity done at home by their child(ren) has increased since joining SCORES.

MILWAUKEE
• 68% increase in the number of participants who coaches rated as confident in their oral presentation ability.

NEW ENGLAND
• 79% of elementary participants were engaged in creative writing at the end of the program based on teacher evaluation.

PORTLAND
• 83% of students improved their aerobic capacity after participating in the program.

SEATTLE
• 43% of students showed at least a 15% improvement in reading and writing scores determined by pre/post writing samples.

I Feel Happy, I Feel Sad
I feel happy and I feel sad
Why am I happy?
Because I am in SCORES.
Why am I sad?
Because I’m not at my house.
Why am I happy and sad at the same time?
Because I have two feelings in my heart.
Why am I sad sometimes?
Because I put my T-shirt on backwards.
Why am I happy sometimes?
Because I put my T-shirt on right.

It’s not uncommon to find members of the same family involved with SCORES at one time or another. For Alonso and Oscar, however, SCORES has become part of their daily lives. The two moved to the United States from El Salvador three years ago with their family and immediately found soccer as a way to integrate into new surroundings. For the younger Oscar, the SCORES elementary school program was a perfect fit. However, for 13-year-old Alonso, the SCORES core program for 3rd-5th graders was out of reach. Although he was a skilled player, because of the high costs of playing club soccer, he had to settle for neighborhood pick-up games.

America SCORES has offered programs to Bay Area elementary school students since 2001, but until recently, students that moved on to middle school had few options. Like Alonso, students often found the fees to participate in organized teams cost-prohibitive. However, in the past three years, with the help of sponsors like the U.S. Soccer Foundation and their “Soccer for Success” program, this reality has changed. America SCORES Bay Area is now able to provide low-income middle school students like Alonso with access to free soccer programming and often the continuity of playing with the same team from elementary school.

Now 16 and in high school, Alonso continues to be a part of SCORES as a referee for middle school games. He also volunteers as a coach for Oscar’s team and spends most of his Saturday mornings at the field assisting coaches, managing schedules, and refereeing.

“Being a referee and having my younger brother around me has inspired me to be the best that I can be. Thanks to SCORES, I have an opportunity to feel like a member of the community.”

The 2013–2014 school year was a special year for SCORES as we welcomed a new SCORES program in Vancouver. The leadership team of Kevin Yang and Jon Lutz has been instrumental in impacting Vancouver youth and making SCORES international!

Jon Lutz
Founder and Chairman of the Board

Jon’s history with SCORES dates back to serving as Board Chair of LA SCORES. Originally from London, England, Jon joined Electronic Arts Europe in 1998, the perfect fit for him as a video game enthusiast. Since then, he has been in various roles spanning the publishing, online, studio and corporate divisions. During his career at Electronic Arts, Jon has been based in London, Redwood Shores, Los Angeles and most recently Vancouver. He is currently Vice President of Financial Planning & Strategy for Electronic Arts Inc.

What motivated you to bring SCORES to the Vancouver community?

"I moved to Vancouver in 2006, but continued as the board chair for America SCORES LA through 2012. Over time I became convinced there was a need for the SCORES program in Canada, and I would be guilty-as-charged if I did not make it happen. I spoke to family, friends and colleagues and discovered a large population of underserved vulnerable youth right here in Vancouver. With the Whitecaps back in the MLS, my position at EA Canada—home of the FIFA video game—and my experience in LA, it struck me that now was the time to bring SCORES to Canada. And I haven't looked back since!"
My Canada SCORES Poem

Soccer ball into the net
Pass the goalie and into the net
Falling down, someone helps me get back up
Never ever in 1000 years going to quit
Passing to my friends
Kicking the ball into the net
I missed, maybe next time
Doing poetry, writing on my paper
Try to finish my last sentence
I finish my poem, it’s 5 sentences long
Telling my poem to the kids
They all like it

Leadership

Kevin Yang
Executive Director

Kevin began his journey with Canada SCORES Vancouver as a member of the volunteer development board in December 2013. After visiting the Canada SCORES kids on Day 1, he was immediately captivated by the program and started to volunteer as a soccer coach. His passion, dedication and commitment to the program only grew as he became more and more involved. One of his most memorable contributions to date was his involvement in helping organize Canada SCORES Vancouver’s inaugural corporate cup.

Kevin was born in Taiwan and moved to Canada with his family when he was ten and has lived just outside Vancouver in Burnaby ever since. He considers Burnaby his hometown and would love to “inspire, engage, and make a difference” in the lives of children in his community.

What motivates you to be involved with SCORES?

“Sports have always been an important part of my life. Playing soccer was how I made friends when I first moved to Canada at age 10. Although I never developed into a quality soccer player, I will never forget how soccer helped ease the transition of one of the major changes in my life. Now I am grateful to have the opportunity to utilize soccer as a tool to help vulnerable children mature into well-rounded citizens.”
When I Close My Eyes

When I close my eyes, I see you
The person who makes my heart whole
You’re my light, my heart, my soul
You’re the awesomest person I know
You stand by my side
And keep me safe and whole
I hope you know
How much I love you so
As time goes by
And I grow old
You don’t know how many times I cry
When I open my eyes
And my days are done
I know that we will be one

Tya N.
SEATTLE

Tya is a dedicated SCORES alumnus and leader at Maple Elementary School. SCORES came into Tya’s life shortly after her father’s death, a tumultuous time for her family. While Tya struggled through this crisis, SCORES was a constant, positive influence in her life. Through the program, Tya came out of her shell to make friends, grow as a person and think positively about school. She has had a safe space to express her feelings through writing, in particular her tribute to her father, “When I Close My Eyes.” In 2012, Tya got the opportunity to perform this poem in New York City at the National Poetry SLAM!

Since graduating from the program, Tya has remained very involved with SCORES, in particular as a leader for her former team at Maple Elementary, where she assists coaches on a daily basis. She also helps out at the SCORES office during the Junior SCORES program in the winter. As a role model and inspiration to other poet-athletes, she exhibits positivity and dedication and will no doubt remain connected with SCORES for years to come.

Of her work with the Maple SCORES girls team Tya says, “There isn’t a day they don’t make me smile.”

Coach Santiago
DALLAS

Ordinarily the office manager at L.O. Donald Elementary by day, Coach Santiago comes to life when the bell rings for SCORES after school. He teaches both poetry and soccer to the poet-athletes of America SCORES Dallas. Recently beginning his fifth year of coaching SCORES, Santiago loves teaching students the fundamentals of soccer and thinks it’s so cool that he gets to work with them on their poetry and self expression as well. In his free time, Santiago watches soccer and coaches other soccer teams—he’s that committed to the sport!

“I’m grateful to have a team as committed as the Donald boys and girls. I believe the key to a successful program is to have parents as involved as possible. Poet-athletes: I’m proud of each and every one of you. Thank you for all your support!”

With his brother Mike, Brendan built Sports Endeavors, Inc. into the largest specialty soccer, lacrosse and rugby retailer in the world. Brendan has also served on the America SCORES National Board of Directors for over ten years. During this time, he’s been active in expanding and sustaining our organization. From sage advice to National Poetry SLAM! sponsorships, Brendan’s steady nature and on-going commitment has kept America SCORES moving forward.

With Brendan’s leadership, Sports Endeavors Inc. has played an essential role in designing and supporting the SCORES patch program. Emblazoned with words that promote core SCORES values like Teamwork, Leadership, and Commitment, coaches across the country award these patches throughout the season to thousands of poet-athletes who exemplify those values and promote them within the community.

“The patch program gives those students who are positive role models for their teammates a sense of pride and gives others something to strive for throughout the season.”

DONOR PROFILE
Charles A. Frueauff Foundation

A supporter of America SCORES for over 10 years, the Charles A. Frueauff Foundation has helped provide our award-winning program to hundreds of low-income youth across the country. From program expansions in Dallas, Denver, New York City and Washington, D.C., to funding for the national office’s affiliate support programs, the Frueauff Foundation and SCORES have worked together to help students be more physically active and succeed in the classroom. In 2015, with the Frueauff Foundation’s support, America SCORES will be upgrading the Power of Poetry (POP) curriculum. The new curriculum will utilize new technologies to enhance student learning, address the needs of increasing ESL populations in our program, and develop better training for staff and coaches. We look forward to working with Frueauff for years to come.
